The summary of this book.

The story is about a family who were very rich. Their father was accused to something he hadn't done, so he had to go to prison. The mother and children had to live in a small house near the railway. They lived in poor circumstances, but mostly happy. One day some important people found out that the father was innocent and the father was able to see his family again.

When does the story happen?

The story happens in the 19th century in a very small village in England. In that small village is a small house, which is near the railway.

Mention a less important character and describe what kind of person he/she is.

Perks: he was the station-master and lived also near the railway. Sometimes he helps the children by answering their questions, but mostly he watches the trains.

What was the book about?

I think this book was about love and happiness.

Mention 2 important occurrences which happens in your book. Explain Why.

-the moment that the family had to leave their villa in London and had to live in a small house.

-the moment that Bobbie found out where her father was.

Explaining:

both occurrences are filled with a lot of excitement and both occurrences are filled with emotions like taking care of each other, support in times which you need that and I like reading about exciting occurrences which are filled with different emotions.

If you could be one of the characters in your book, which one would you be and why?

If I could be one of the characters in this book, then I would want to be Bobbie, because she is a careful girl, which I am too. She has a good heart, which I have too and I think she has got the same age as I have.

Would you recommend this book to a friend or not? Explain why.

I would recommend this book to a friend, because when you read this book, it gives you the feeling you're in the exciting beautiful past of the 19th century, filled with adventures and love. Totally different than now in the 21st century.
